

MILLER MOUNTAIN DEVELOPS FINE LEAD-SILVER LEDGE IN ADDITION TO ZINC

Ed. Malmquist, formerly foreman on the Tonopah Extension, returned yesterday from Miller Mountain where he went to look at the property of the Miller Mountain Mining company. Mr. Malmquist was greatly pleased with appearances which he said, were such as would probably furnish all the tonnage required to keep going a fifty-ton mill for an indefinite period. This company was organized eighteen months ago to take over a group of 14 claims located about six months previously. Since then considerable work has been done in prospecting and blocking out ore through a 50-foot shaft and two tunnels. The plan is to connect the upper tunnel with the shaft and then begin mining by the caving system that will reduce the cost of production to a fraction of what it would cost to hoist.

"I found a big tonnage of milling grade ore," explained Mr. Malmquist this morning, "that can be handled cheaply through the upper tunnel that taps a silver-lead ledge to a depth of 80 feet. On the surface the ledge crops for a distance of 300 feet and a width of 50 feet in a porphyritic dike breaking up through a crystalline lime. On top the values run between $5 and $30. Two thousand feet east of the silver-lead ledge is another ledge carrying high values in gold and zinc. Here there is a tunnel in for a distance of 50 feet with a winze sunk to a depth of 10 feet showing six feet of solid black jack running from 10 to 26 per cent and carrying $8 in gold. From my observations I would say there was a big tonnage of silver-lead ore to justify the construction of a 50-ton mill such as is contemplated by the company. The site of this mill is only 500 feet from the portal of the tunnel so the ore can be handled by gravity. The crystalline lime dike in which the ore occurs has a width of 200 feet with a shale footwall and the hanging wall in andesite.

In driving the tunnel to penetrate the lead silver ledge a six-foot ledge of molybdenite ore was cut in a garnet quartz that of itself is a valuable asset since there is a demand for the metal that cannot be filled. In spite of numerous statements that bodies of the ore have been traced it is asserted by men engaged in looking for rare metal that there is not a single body of molybdenite of commercial magnitude under location. The molybdenite has been tested to run 5 per cent which fixes the value of the ore at $140 per ton. The basis of estimating the value of this metal is on a product concentrated to 90 per cent which sells at $140 a pound making the value of a 1 per cent product $28.00 per ton.
